

The upcoming vote on media ownership MUST be delayed providing time to educate the public on the ramifications of passage. It should be the responsibility of the FCC to do whatever it takes to inform the public on the profound effects of further media mergers and consolidations. Frankly, it scares me beyond measure.